WORK SERIES QUO VADIS > IDENTITY vs. PERSONALITY vs. INTEGRITY

since 8.2010

QUO VADIS

is a LATIN phrase meaning "Where are you going ?"

This is the title of the new series of artwork that includes paintings and video work.

My own journey of life, with all the experiences and adventures I went through so far, enriches my personal development. This journey of life assists me in getting a better understanding of identity and integrity.

All in all this awareness guides me through life, without questioning the direction or the result of the journey, but with making my own identity more visible.

This whole process is also visible in my art. It is an expedition into a colourful, emotional and expressive world, as well as a quest of self-awareness and personal identity.

It is a transparent doorway, a visual key to a reality, a world or a universe hidden within ourselves. It reveals an individual, integer open-mindedness.

QUO VADIS ...where am I going? > ...where are you going?...

It's a call and I have to follow

It's a call and I'd like to follow...
